

Comings and Goings of Charleston Atlantic Presbytery

WE WELCOME TO THE LIFE AND MINISTRY OF CHARLESTON ATLANTIC PRESBYTERY

Achim Daffin, who is the Chaplain at Presbyterian Village in Summerville. We are delighted that Achim and Jane have returned to our presbytery after a time in Providence Presbytery. They have one daughter, Joy, who is a first grade teacher in Rock Hill.

Charley Hasty, Honorably Retired, who has served as a pastor and interim pastor (in some of our congregations). He and Lois have retired to Edisto Island. Charlie comes to us from Northeast Georgia Presbytery.

Joy Murphy, Minister of Christian Education at Sea Island Church. She grew up in the Beaufort area and is excited about returning home with her husband, Brian, and their pets. Joy comes to us from Chapin United Methodist Church where she was Minister of Students.

Eric Keller, Associate Pastor of Second Church. Eric currently serves as a Chaplain in the United States Army and is currently on the staff of the Army Chief of Chaplains in the Washington D.C. area. He and his wife, Diane, will be moving to Charleston in the spring. They have two children, Erika and Joshua, a student at the College of Charleston.

WE BID FARWELL AND PRAY GODSPEED TO

Joe Brooks, Honorable Retired, who has moved his membership to Trinity Presbytery. We are grateful for Joe's service as interim in several of our churches.

Lynn Turnage, Church Educator at Mt. Pleasant Church, who has moved to Atlanta to serve the Central Presbyterian Church. Lynn has led workshops for our presbytery's training events and worked with the Children's Committee on the adoption event.
